

LEATHER CONSOLE EXTENSION PANELS MGB

Making a deeper feature of the centre console, while additionally closing off an unsightly area of the footwells, these beautifully crafted leather-trimmed extension panels are the perfect complement for any of the range of Club one-piece leather trimmed centre consoles.

If desired these extension panels will accept footwell courtesy lights, which are available separately - the footwell lights may be easily connected into the wiring circuit for the centre console interior light.

Sold in pairs and available in a choice of eight leather colours, matching other Club leather trim products, console extension panels are surely a 'must-have' for any centre console equipped MGB with a full Club leather interior.

Easy to fit. Metal spring clips on the rearward end of the extension panels slip conveniently behind the forward edges of the console, while the front edges secure to the body with self tapping screws and cup washers.

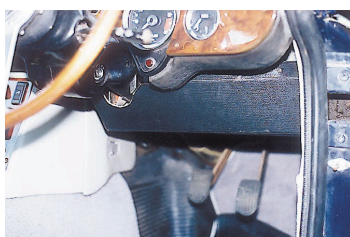

Basic hand tools required. A drill to create the screw holes in the body, plus a crosshead screwdriver.
